

Gamecocks Earn Statewide Recognition 🏆 USC faculty, students and alumni received top awards at this year's South Carolina Pharmacy Association Annual Conference. Read more...

FROM THE DEAN'S DESK

In less than one month, we will welcome the Class of 2028 to the College of Pharmacy. I'm excited to meet the newest members of our college. Welcoming new students is a highlight of our academic year. Speaking of highlights, we have a lot of great news from the college about our faculty, staff, and students, including several awards from last month's South Carolina Pharmacy Association Conference. We have also received exciting news that our college has hit a record high in research funding received from the National Institutes of Health – we will share more about these great stories in the coming weeks. I wish you and your families the best and that you enjoy the rest of your summer!

Stephen J. Cutler, Ph.D.
